

different, creative ways to tackle the same job! You choose the solution you like best!

front. A dovetail joint provides access to the adjustments that can be made. And it's the air circulation that's important to router cooling.

Also, a dust port to the router compartment, since it proved to be the principal collection spot for chips. Behind could be... The router compartment...

CABINET ROUTER TABLE

Use clamps, lots of clamps, to hold the router and its workhorses.